Workshops presented (not all workshops are presented at all conventions):

There's a METHOD to the Madness! - Did you know that HOW you teach can be as important as WHAT you teach? And yet most moms have had little training on how to teach a subject and are left to the methods of the public schools. Because of this many students are good readers and poor spellers. Let us show you the most efficient method for teaching balanced skills in spelling writing, reading, grammar, composition, and intro to Latin.

LATIN the Mother of Many Languages - No other language affects English as much as Latin - and it increases your ability to learn almost any other subject. Beginning as early as 5th grade, your student can earn high school foreign language credits while building skills in English grammar, vocabulary, and advanced spelling. No previous experience in Latin is required of the parent because all the preparation work is done by the author. Come learn the amazing practical applications of Latin for your home school.

Historical Timeline of English Spelling - English spelling does not have to be a mystery when you know...the rest of the story. Our language is rich with the vocabulary based on many languages, and armed with this brief history, you can know the secrets of many of our English spellings.

PHONICS Road to Spelling and Reading - Introducing the only Orton-inspired phonics course to take the burden of preparation off the parent/teacher by providing complete teacher training on video, modeling what to teach, when to teach, and how to teach it. Your written notebook is completed so your preparation time is minimal. This complete K-4 curriculum builds the skills in spelling, writing, reading, grammar, and composition, preparing you and your student for The LATIN Road to English Grammar.
